MALOCA KIN

At the heart of our center lies the Maloca Kin. Meticulously designed with profound intention, it embodies the essence of our retreat, harnessing the power of sacred proportions and organic materials. The Maloca Kin stands as a testament to our deep connection with life.

Drawing inspiration from the Mayan culture, a circular opening gracefully adorns the center. By day, the radiant sunlight bathes the sacred space, illuminating it with warmth and vitality. As the night descends, the opening beneath our feet, the chukum floors cradle the sacred fire, an alchemical symbol that epitomizes transformation and the essence of life itself catalyzing profound metamorphosis.

CASA KETZAL

A photograph of a cenote, a natural underground water source. The water is a vibrant, clear blue, reflecting the light. The surrounding rock walls are dark and textured, with numerous thin, brown roots hanging down from the ceiling. The scene is dimly lit, creating a mysterious and serene atmosphere.
